BAPTIST CONFESSION OF FAITH OF 1689

Chapter 16 Chapter 4
GOOD WORKS

Those who in their obedience [to God] attain the greatest height possible in this life, are still far from being able to perform works of supererogation (that is, to do more than God requires) since they fall short of much which, as their duty, they are required to do.¹

CONSECUTIVE SCRIPTUR READING

Numbers 34:1-15 and Acts 8:26-40

MEMORY LANE: REVELATION 22

21st – 27th January - Revelation 22:21
The Last Benediction

John concluded the book of Revelation with a benediction: "The grace of the Lord Jesus be with all. Amen." The grace of our Lord saved John and sustained him during his exile at Patmos. It also provided him with the privilege of seeing sights of God and His position in heaven, and the privilege of learning and writing about the Lord's future plans.

It is completely by the grace of our Lord Jesus that God saves sinners, provides for all their needs, allows them to serve Him, and keeps them until the final day of redemption. When we reach heaven, we will not boast about what we accomplished on earth. We will sing about the grace that saved us, sustained us in every trial, met our every need, secured our safe passage to heaven, and granted us the privilege of seeing our Savior face to face.
